

After a desperate search through your pile of bills and your junk drawer, you gaze hungrily at the menu of a local pizzeria, excited about having a good filling meal with you and your guests. However, upon quick glance through the menu, you realize the magnitude of your decision. Your met by tens of monthly coupons and deals, over one million topping combinations, twenty-four different types of pizza. Then you have to choose where to order your selection from. How do you choose? The Tom Tom will make the hard choice so you don't have to.

Antioch TOM TOM

PIZZA 'TEST'

After eight hours of tireless labor, the Tom Tom staff gets pretty hungry. This month, we ordered out for pizza. Six local pizza places were included in our pizza test. The pizzas used for the test were 14 inch cheese thin-crust pizzas. The pizzas were put into random boxes and a number label to correspond with that pizza. Then, each staff member was given a piece of pizza from each pizzeria and a standard sheet to rate the pizza on 6 categories. The pizzas were rated on quality of cheese, sauce, crust, grease, and value. The votes were tallied up, and a final score was given to each pizza. Keep in mind every pizzeria has its good and bad days, so don't be afraid to try somewhere with a lower rating.
